

Season 4 Episode 8

Fusion vs. Fusion

A bald black man with a short goatee and dressed in a purple suit with different shades of purple shapes enters an estate office. The estate executor said, "Ah, Mr. Annexby. A great honor is upon you." Annexby said, "What is this?" The executor said, "You see, Clock King went missing some time ago and no one knows where he is nor has anyone seen him in quite some time now. So long in fact that he is now legally declared dead. His will is right here and it states that you are the inheritor of all his property." Annexby raises an eyebrow and said, "His property? Why would Clock King trust me with this? We only met once." The executor said, "Well, his will states you get everything. You will sign here and all his possessions are yours." Annexby signs the document and he is in Clock King's basement.

Annexby digs through piles of bizarre time related technology and equipment. He finds a barricade of boxes and he pulls all of them apart and he finds a window with a control panel on it. Annexby activates it and it displays different years in history on a screen above and the window shows what happens in those years. Annexby sets the window to go back to the year, 1965. Annexby looks at the window and smiles at what he sees.

Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are in Mason's lab at the peak of day. They stand in front of a lab counter filled with flasks of a reddish orange bubbly liquid. Jason said, "Is this some new kind of soda?" Mason said, "This is a new liquid formula that works similar to those power pills I invented years ago. This liquid is a temporary augment formula that makes anyone that drinks it temporarily stronger but for longer periods of time than the power pills." Captain Fusion said, "I may be genetically augmented but you twins are not. I may end up in a predicament where the only choice you would have would be to use this liquid formula. It could also be used as a weapon against me if I ever go bad and turn to the dark side." Mason said, "We will all test this new formula." Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion drink the formula and a zig-zag outline forms around them. Jason said, "I feel strange. This doesn't taste like soda." Mason said, "It is not. It is making us stronger." The outline fades away and Jason said, "So, is it working?" Mason said, "We would have to test it on something."

Annexby smashes down the door to Mason's lab using large blaster weapons he found in Clock King's basement. Annexby said, "Well hello to you all. Meet your new ruler." Jason said, "What gives you the right to barge in here?" Annexby blasts a cabinet filled with Mason's technology and it is completely vaporized. Annexby aims the weapon at Jason and he said, "Does that answer your question?" Jason has a scared look on his face. Captain Fusion said, "This could be an opportunity to test our new invention." They jump into battle. The three of them form up and they jump in the air and are about to kick Annexby in the head. Annexby takes out a gun that blasts out a chain and it locks Jason and Mason together and Captain Fusion dodges the chain. Jason said, "We are stuck in here pretty tightly." Captain Fusion said, "I will get you out." Annexby said, "I don't think that is possible. Clock King made this chain and it was built to his high anti-Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion standards." Captain Fusion goes to fight Annexby. Captain Fusion throws some smacks but they all miss as Annexby dodges them. Annexby jumps on Captain Fusion's head and he injects a control chip into Captain Fusion's head. Captain Fusion stands still with his eyes looking void of any life. Annexby said, "Perfect. It looks like all my pawns are in place." Annexby darts his head to Jason and Mason and he said, "You boys sit back and watch the entertainment roll in front of you." Annexby sets up Clock King's time window and he sets it for 1965. Annexby takes out a controller and he controls Captain Fusion and he makes him walk into the window. Annexby has a demonic look on his face and he said, "My work here is done." He leaves Mason's lab leaving Jason and Mason tied up in chains." Jason said, "What do you think just happened?" Mason said, "Just about every villain we have ever come across is both smart and dumb at the same time. Something tells me this new guy is one of them."

Jason said, "How are we going to break out of these chains?" Mason said, "Well, we drank that new liquid formula." Jason and Mason push out and they use their arms and they make the chains shatter like glass. Mason said, "We are free." Jason and Mason look at the window in front of them that is set to 1965. Jason said, "What the hell is this thing?" Mason said, "I don't know but we should not touch it. We may very well be in a dire predicament and tampering with that thing may make it worse."

Jason and Mason open up the door to the lab and they look outside and they see tall buildings with screens showing Annexby propaganda on them. They walk down the street and they observe that Annexby is everywhere. Jason said, "What happened?" They see people walking around with Annexby shirts and people drinking Annexby branded drinks and eating at Annexby restaurants. Mason said, "It looks like Annexby rules the world." Jason and Mason are being spied on by a robot in a tall observatory in a tall tower that looks like Annexby's body. The robot activates a turret on the telescope and it open fires on Jason and Mason. Jason and Mason spot the bullets firing at them at extreme speeds. They dash down the street and away from the bullets. Jason said, "It is a good thing we drank that new formula." Mason said, "Otherwise, we would be dead right now.” Jason and Mason run back into the lab. Jason said, “It is like the whole world outside was changed but everything in this lab is the same.” Mason said, “I did install a time shield system in the walls of this lab. It must have shielded this lab from changes in the timeline from time travel.” Mason goes to his computer and he said, “It seems I can still access the internet. Let’s see what history is now.”

Jason and Mason view historical records. One of them shows a photo of the old Captain Fusion with the control device in his head fighting against young Captain Fusion in 1965. Mason reads the screen, “In 1965, Captain Fusion was murdered by an old guy that looked just like him.” A photo is displayed on Mason’s screen of mind-controlled Captain Fusion standing over the dead corpse of young Captain Fusion. Mason continues reading, “Captain Fusion was dead and mysteriously vanished shortly after. With Captain Fusion gone, Annexby started using advanced and futuristic technology to invade pretty much every corporation in the world allowing him to rule the business world. There were no other options but to use his services which allowed him to become rich and...” A large image of Annexby takes over the screen and it has large letters that read, “CENSORED. By the authority of Annexby.” Jason said, “Annexby censored the internet. We have no freedom.” Mason said, “Well, it looks like we have only one choice. We are going to figure out how to work this thing and go back to 1965 before Annexby’s mind-controlled Captain Fusion gets to the young Captain Fusion and stop him from getting murdered.” Mason looks at the tall window and Mason said, “We cannot underestimate everything. We already have our temporarily augmented bodies but even that is not enough.” Jason said, “We can still use these.” Jason grabs out a container of power pills. Mason said, “I never thought of combining the things but I guess that could work.” Jason said, “Of course I am going be bringing the love of my life that is not Pamela with me.” Jason loads some orange soda cans into his pockets. Mason looks at the window and he said, “It looks like the device is set to August 28, 1965. I will set the machine back to August 25, 1965. We will have three days to find young Captain Fusion and warn him about this plot. I tried to give us as much time as possible. We must limit our time in the past because we do not want to contaminate the past or change it and make things worse.”

Jason and Mason step into the portal and they appear in a back alleyway in the late evening where the sky is orange and blue. Mason takes out a map and he said, “This is a map I found of this area in 1965. Captain Fusion’s house at the time is highlighted on this.” Jason and Mason walk down the San Francisco street in 1965 and they find Captain Fusion’s house. Jason said, “We are here.” Mason said, “Now we can warn him.” Jason and Mason ring the doorbell and knock on the luxurious looking door to a luxurious looking house. Jason and Mason wait and there is no answer. Jason said, “Where could he be?” Mason said, “He might be out somewhere. We will wait for him to get back.” Jason and Mason wait on the front doorstep of Captain Fusion’s house and hours go by. It is now pitch dark outside and Jason said, “How much time do we have left?" Mason looks at his technologically advanced watch and it says they have two days and twelve hours remaining." Mason said, "This is concerning. We have been here for hours and there does not seem to be anyone here." Jason said, "I think it is about time we take matters into our own hands." Mason said, "We might not have a choice." Mason takes out a piece of paper and he writes a letter. It reads...

"Dear Captain Fusion. On August 28, 1965, you are going to be killed by an old guy dressed as you. He has a mind-control device placed into his head. This old guy is good but he is under mind-control from one of your villains. Try to break the mind control device on him. Also, this old guy has consumed a new formula that has enhanced his strength. He is stronger than you so be careful of that. The fate of the future is depending on you."

Mason slips the letter into the mail slot on the door. Mason said, "Well, I guess all we can do now is wait for Captain Fusion to get our letter." A mysterious black van drives by the house and slows down as it drives in front of it. Jason said, "Could that van be..." Mason takes out a pair of binoculars and he uses the x-ray feature on it and he views the inside of the van. It is filled with high tech gadgets and equipment and it is being driven by old Captain Fusion with the mind control device in his head. Mason said, "It is old Captain Fusion." The van speeds away. Jason said, "How are we going to catch him?" Mason said, "I think the effects of the liquid formula have not worn off yet. I have something for this." Mason takes out two harpoon guns and he throws one to Jason and Jason catches it.

Jason and Mason swing down the street and they follow the van. They watch it drive off and they spot it driving out of the city and into a gated section in the middle of a field. The building is guarded by a somewhat tall barbwire gate with electricity flowing through it. Jason and Mason stop at the gate and they look up. Jason said, "How are we going to get over this gate?" Mason said, "Our new liquid formula will allow us to jump over it." Mason jumps over the gate and Jason follows. Jason and Mason use their harpoon guns and they go to the roof of the strange mysterious building and they enter through the roof. They stand on a catwalk and they look down. They see a large meeting of classic Captain Fusion villains standing around the old Captain Fusion with the mind-control device in his head.

Old Captain Fusion said, "Captain Fusion has been nothing but a sheer hinderance to our plans to rule the world. The only way he can possibly be beaten is if we become him." One of the villains said, "How do we become Captain Fusion? He became Captain Fusion from some kind of rare augment serum or so I have been told." Old Captain Fusion raises a flask filled with the reddish orange bubbly liquid and he said, "That is why I invented this. This liquid formula will make us more powerful than Captain Fusion could ever be. With us ganging up on him with this formula in our bloodstreams, we can brutally murder Captain Fusion faster than any of us can blink." Mason gives a stern angered look and said, "He is taking credit for something I partially invented." Jason takes out the power pill container and he pours some into his hand and Mason's hand. Mason said, "We will be needing more powerful forms this time. Try to envision yourself as the strongest hero imaginable." Jason said, "For sure." Jason and Mason appear in black suits and Jason's has a large orange X on it and Mason's has a large blue X on it. They also have black protective helmets and they have large mega guns mounted to their wrists.

Jason and Mason jump down into the fray and they aim their weapons at Captain Fusion and the villains. Captain Fusion said, "His accomplices have found us." The villains run and they quickly chug down the liquid and they become much stronger and more powerful. A strong mighty villain takes several jabs at Mason and Mason blasts him away with his wrist cannon. Jason runs past a small group of villains and he lures them close to each other. Jason blasts all of them down. Jason and Mason blast away at the villains to a point where they all lie down sprawled all over the floor in defeat. Captain Fusion looks over them and he said, "Why did they all fail? They had the formula." Mason said, "Unlike Captain Fusion's augment serum, this formula only enhances physical strength and abilities and it does nothing for becoming smarter." Captain Fusion said, "You fools. You will pay the price for this." Captain Fusion jumps out and he chops Jason and Mason's wrist cannons in half. He grabs Jason and Mason and he smashes them together. Captain Fusion grabs onto Jason and Mason and he holds them tightly in his grip. Captain Fusion walks out of the place and he walks down the dark nighttime street of San Francisco. Jason and Mason flail their arms around in Captain Fusion's grip. Jason and Mason are brought to a tall abandoned building where they are placed into a purple cube entrapment. Captain Fusion said, "My chains were not enough to keep you trapped so I will trap you in yet another invention that Clock King never used." Captain Fusion jumps away. Jason and Mason are crammed together in the small purple cube. Jason said, "How do we get out of this one?" Mason said, "There is only one thing we can do now. We must pray that young Captain Fusion will find that letter we sent him."

Young Captain Fusion unlocks the door to his house and he finds the letter Mason wrote on his front carpet. He reads the letter and he said, "It looks like people from the future are looking out for me." The front door to Captain Fusion's house is destroyed and old Captain Fusion with a cannon on his right arm steps in the house. Young Captain Fusion gives the mind-controlled Captain Fusion a stern look and he spots the mind-control device on him.

Young Captain Fusion jumps and he punches down on old Captain Fusion in the head. Young Captain Fusion punches at the mind control device and old Captain Fusion fires a blast from his arm cannon at young Captain Fusion. Young Captain Fusion dodges the blast and it hits a building and it collapses. Young Captain Fusion runs out into the street and old Captain Fusion blasts away destroying a lot of the city. People watch the Captain Fusions battle each other. Old Captain Fusion gets close to young Captain Fusion and young Captain Fusion grabs onto old Captain Fusion's arm cannon and he tries to rip it off but it does not budge. Old Captain Fusion said, "I am far stronger than you." Young Captain Fusion runs in front of a skeleton of cinder blocks from a building being built. Old Captain Fusion fires a blast at young Captain Fusion and the building crumbles apart and young Captain Fusion jumps away while old Captain Fusion is engulfed in the rubble. Old Captain Fusion digs his way out of the rubble and his head is exposed. He gets his arm with the arm cannon free. As he slowly breaks out of the rubble, young Captain Fusion rips the mind control device off old Captain Fusion's head. Old Captain Fusion returns to his normal self. Young Captain Fusion helps old Captain Fusion out of the rubble. Young Captain Fusion said, "Are you alright." Old Captain Fusion said, "I am fine. The fate of the future depends on you. Don't ask why but it is. I have some people to save." Captain Fusion remembers entrapping Jason and Mason and where he trapped them. Captain Fusion thinks, "If I had a normal memory, I would not remember being mind-controlled. Thankfully, I don't have a normal memory. I have a genetically augmented one."

Old Captain Fusion dashes off and he barges into the abandoned building where Jason and Mason are trapped in the purple cube. Jason said, "Captain Fusion. You trapped us in this cube. Can you break us out of this?" Captain Fusion picks up the cube and he tries to break it. It does not budge nor crack. Captain Fusion smashes it against the wall and it does nothing. Annexby stands on a ledge high over Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion and he has the window behind him. Annexby said, "Face it. The cube and everything in this place is made with Clock King's flawless technology. This window can be moved around to anywhere. It is also the only way back to the present where I still rule over everything because your plan to rescue Captain Fusion has failed." The window begins to fluctuate and sparks are sent off it. A spiral vortex forms at the floor adjacent to the window. The vortex starts sucking things into it. Annexby said, "This is not supposed to happen." Jason said, "I guess this is why Clock King never used this thing." Captain Fusion looks at the vortex and he said, "It looks like this window has caused the time space continuum to rip. In that vortex is a realm where time does not exist and nothing is relevant." Jason said, "Well, we are stuck in here against impending doom. I guess I might as well spend my last moments with the one thing I can enjoy." Jason reaches his cramped hand into his pocket and he opens one of the orange soda cans he brought. He tries bringing it to his mouth but he is so tight and cramped he ends up dropping and spilling the orange soda everywhere and it makes the purple cube dissolve.

Annexby jumps down and he is revealed to be wearing a thick purple suit of armor. Annexby said, "Look what else Clock King gave to me." Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion try to run to fight Annexby and Annexby captures all three of them in his grip. Annexby holds them over the vortex as he is about to throw them in there. Young Captain Fusion breaks through one of the windows and he jumps and smacks Annexby down losing his grip on Jason, Mason, and old Captain Fusion. Annexby looks at young Captain Fusion and he said, "You. I just need to kill you now and my plan is over." Young Captain Fusion said, "Get out of here. I will deal with this freak." Young Captain Fusion tries to fight against Annexby and Annexby gets the upper hand on young Captain Fusion and he is about to throw him into the vortex. Old Captain Fusion said, "We cannot let him perish. He means everything to us." Old Captain Fusion jumps at Annexby and he lifts up Annexby. Captain Fusion bends Annexby's hands backwards and he throws Annexby into the vortex. Old Captain Fusion grabs onto Jason and Mason and he jumps up the steps to the window that is still open and leads back to the present. Captain Fusion jumps high but not high enough to get to the window so Jason and Mason pull out harpoon guns and they attach them to the edges of the window and they ride up. They get stopped as Annexby pulls on Captain Fusion's cape and drags him down into the vortex. Jason empties his pockets and throws random stuff at Annexby. Young Captain Fusion grabs onto Annexby and he punches Annexby in the head. Annexby loses his grip and he falls into the vortex along with young Captain Fusion. Jason throws his harpoon gun to young Captain Fusion and he grabs it and he uses it to zip out of the vortex. The vortex keeps consuming the building and Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion ride up to the window using Mason's harpoon gun. They jump into the window barely missing the vortex.

Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion are back in Mason's lab in the present. Jason said, "Well, how did we do?" Mason looks outside and he said, "It looks like everything is back to normal." Jason said, "Who the hell was Annexby and how does this thing cause a vortex?" Captain Fusion said, "Time travel is very unstable. This device is so advanced that if a single thing goes wrong, it could in theory cause the time space continuum to rip apart. I will have this brought to my lair where I will study it."

Annexby falls through the purple cloudy vortex and he sees windows that lead to all kinds of years throughout history. He sees some windows that lead into his painful past and he even sees ones that lead to the pasts of other characters, including, Jason, Mason, and Captain Fusion.
